

Titel:

SENIOR CONSULTANT (M/F)

Region:

Hamburg

Reports to:

Director Consulting

What you can expect:

- Various and varied game-changing projects for national and international brands and products
- Encouragement of personal responsibility and client contact
- Very good opportunities for further development in interdisciplinary teams
- Passionate packaging team composed of creatives, strategists, and technologists working in all fields of packaging and packaging materials

Main responsibilities:

- International project coordination between branded products and packaging manufacturers, as well as internal departments and external agencies
- Organisation, development and implementation of industrial packaging solutions within the respective project objectives (e.g. total costs, risk assessment, quality requirements)
- Effective running and organising of packaging development projects and ensuring extensive communication during the project process
- Material independent consultancy

Competencies:

- Completed university degree preferably in packaging technology or comparable training with professional experience
- Sales / acquisition experience
- At least 3 years professional experience in the packaging industry, plastics, FMCG
- Very good project management skills
- Intercultural awareness, very good communication skills
- Knowledge of MS-Office programs
- Very good knowledge of presentation skills, moderation of workshops, project management and administration
- Business fluent in English
- Flexibility, open to travel and passion for packaging

Contact:

KNOX GmbH
Neuer Wall 71
20354 Hamburg
T +49 (0)40 18 05 64 18
hr@knox-gmbh.com
www.knox-gmbh.com